Fund Manager's Comments

In May the MSCI World (USD) is up 0.05%, the HFRX Equities Hedge Index is down -0.18% and the MFM Global Thematic Fund (USD) is down -1.23%. The Fund suffered from a strong USD appreciation and from a correction in Solar and Korean stocks that we have been buying on the dip. We are still very long term bulls on the solar sector and talked about it in our last CNBC interview that you can access by clicking here. Meanwhile, the short hedge on Swiss telecoms helped the performance. We also added a new theme on the short side focusing on London Real estate focused companies. With all time low earning yields of 1.3% and high NAV premiums we believe that the risk return there is very poor. Overall we are waiting for some more clarity on the Greek situation before raising our net Equity exposure. We believe that Greece shall not be systematically relevant for the overall market but a clear default announcement could create some contagion fear, a short term oversold situation and a buying opportunity. We are at a point in the cycle where we feel virtually all assets are trading above their intrinsic value; some are in 'highly priced' territory, and there are few absolute bargains available. On the other hand, we believe there's somewhat further to go before we reach peak exuberance, and thus peak prices.
