Fund Manager's Comments

April has been a good month for us with a performance of 2.02% while our benchmark was up 0.99%. We have almost not traded this month. Therefore, the overall fund exposure hasn't changed so far. We will continue to reduce our precious mining exposure to take profits after more than 100% average performance on this theme ytd. We have discussed extensively our current positioning and several investment themes on CNBC and Bloomberg TV last month, you can watch it here. Recent good news around OLED orders and earnings releases have convinced us to keep our large exposure to our main theme, Korea Tech. We have not been surprised by the underperformance of Apple recently. We believe that their current lack of innovation is very worrisome. It will be more and more difficult to catch up with Samsung Electronics in high end devices and with Chinese companies in the new mid-market they are trying to address with the iPhone SE.
